CARTER WAS BUSY ON BIDS

ing Company. He cabled Secretary Stimson, of the War Department, urging him to investigate the entire matter and either hold that the local corporation was entitled to the contract because of informalities, or re-advertise for new bids.

All the papers in the case, with the favorable recommendation of General Bixby, were forwarded to Secretary Stimson, who is traveling through the West with General Wood, inspecting army posts. He returned the documents with his approval. The contract was at once awarded to the Breakwater Company of Philadelphia. In making their announcement of the letting the officials in the engineers office said the most thorough investigation had convinced them that the irregularities in the Philadelphia bid did not invalidate it. For that reason they held that the Government should save the 2 cents per ton difference in the prices demanded for the work. As a final reason it was declared to be just and right that the lowest bidder should be given the work.

The amount involved in the extension work as indicated by the present contract is approximately $450,000.

ORPHAN LAD HERE ON TOUR AROUND WORLD

Thinking that it is better to work his way around the world than to be shut up in an orphanage, George Elbridge, a sixteen year old boy, is trying the experiment and this morning called on Governor Frazar with a request that he should sign his book.

The boy started out from Tunis, Algiers, and has worked his way right around this far. He is on the Manchuria and will continue the voyage in that steamer. During his travels he has run across many exciting adventures but was too busy to talk much about them as he wanted to see the town.

EBEN LOW MAY MANAGE UNION

Eben Low, the "cowboy supervisor," will have a chance to consider the general managership of the recently formed Hul Union, or labor union here.

A meeting of the Union was called for last Friday night but did not result in the choice of a manager, as the attendance was not as large as expected. Low, however, is to be waited on by a special committee to see if he would accept the position should he be selected.

Low stated this morning that he had not been approached by any of the members of the hul, with reference to the appointment of general manager. He said that he is not familiar with the facts in the case, and did not care to say much on it.

CHEMISTS HOLD SESSION TODAY

Reports and papers filled out the morning session at the annual meeting of the Hawaiian Chemists' Association, which began this morning in the rooms of the Sugar Planters' Association, Judd building.

A number of interesting papers dealing with the technical processes of sugar manufacture were read, and much appreciated by the large number of chemists and plantation men who were present.

The association will give its fourth annual banquet this evening at the Hau Tree, covers being laid for thirty.

HILO PLANS FOR RECLAMATION

power necessary to make this fill, being a saving of approximately $7000 on power alone.

"This 100-horsepower electric motor connected to a 12-inch pump, would be capable of delivering 200 cubic yards of solid material per hour, and working 18 hours per day under a full load would deliver 3600 cubic yards of material in the swamps per day, and the time required to make the total fill would be approximately six months. The estimated cost of the total is $16,500. This figure does not contain any percentage of profit for a contract basis, but is the actual cost of the total equipment and labor necessary to make these fills under the present conditions.

"The drainage problem of these areas is contemplated, as follows: The present freshet run-off from the hillsides above the city are to be diverted by intercepting ditches into the river before it reaches the town, and the only water that we will care for in these areas will be the natural spring water that arises in the swamps. These springs can be connected and led into a concrete conduit emptying into the bay and also the Waioa river. The waters, molasses and refuse from the mill washing can be carried through a pipe line parallel to the railroad right-of-way and emptying into the bay, being a separate system from the swamp drainage.

"The most important feature of this reclamation project is the filling in of the swamps, and it would be advisable to start this work as soon as possible, as it will require fully six months to execute it, and in the meantime the drainage problem can be worked out to the best advantage of all conditions and property-owners concerned."
